Enjoying the thrill

Most people want a safe, peaceful job, but not Simon Addlington. Simon is a stuntman for films. He does all the dangerous things that the main actors don't want to do. So he's jumped off a moving train, and he's driven a car into a deep river. He's also run into burning buildings and swum in the sea with sharks. But Simon doesn't feel scared like normal people. 'I don't really get scared,' he says. 'I just get very excited when I'm going to do something dangerous. I love that feeling. But I'm also quite careful. I think about each job carefully before I do it, and I don't take unnecessary risks.'

Simon's had a lot of injuries. He's broken one of his legs, and he's sprained his shoulder four times. He's also burned his arms twice. This first happened when he ran into a burning building for a James Bond film – and again when they made the sequel! But he doesn't mind the injuries because he loves his job. 'It's much more interesting than working in an office!' he says.
